DETAILED ACTION

1. The amendments filed on 3/19/01 have been entered into the record. Claims 1,3-7, 9-12 are pending in the application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. Claims 1,3-7,9-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

The added limitations “executing said predefined process... solely in response to a graphic selection...” and “until said association is disabled by a second user input” are not described in the specification at the time the application was filed. As can be seen on page 10, lines 11-14 of the applicants’ specification, the predefined process is executed in response to (1) dragging the altered-cursor to overlay a suitable object, and (2) clicking on the mouse to execute the process, not “solely” a graphic selection, i.e., solely overlaying the cursor over the suitable object, as amended and argued by the applicant. Further, since the execution step alone requires at least two user inputs, then the amended “said association is disabled by a second user input” also not described in the applicants’ specification.

Art Unit: 2173

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1, 3-7, 9-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being obvious over US patent #5,416,901 (Torres).

- As for claims 1, 7: Torres teaches a method/system for execution of a predefined process within a data processing system having a plurality of objects (figures 2A) and a movable cursor 60 displayed therein, comprising steps/means for specifying a predefined process by recording user input (col. 2, lines 30-53; col. 5, lines 63-66; col. 4, lines 11-22) within the data processing system, associating the process with the cursor 60 (col. 8, lines 3-12), executing the process on objects 38, 40 in response to a graphic selection of objects 38, 40, 62 using the cursor (col. 8, lines 36-60; see explanation of figures 2s) . Torres fails to clearly teach the association is disabled in response to another user input. However, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made, to implement the disabling the association in response to a user input to Torres. Motivation of the implementation is for disabling the copy mode and go on with other tasks.

Art Unit: 2173

- As for claims 3, 9: The system determines whether the process may or may not be executed on the particular object 62 selected by the cursor (col. 8, lines 12-35).
- As for claims 4, 10: An error message is generated if it is determined that the process may not be executed on the particular object 62 (col. 8, lines 14-16)
- As for claims 5, 11: The user defined process may be applied to one or more objects within the data processing system (col. 7, lines 43-54; col. 8, line 1 - col. 9, line 9).
- As for claims 6, 12: The defined process is dragged to icon 62 (col. 8, lines 8-12).

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 3-7, 9-12 have been considered but are not deemed persuasive.

REMARKS:

Torres teaches the generating of a pre-defined process, represented by a selection icon 56, which is a general purpose data template (col. 5, lines 21-23). The general purpose selection icon is applicable to any icon of the same type (col. 8, lines 20-35) and one or more target data fields (col. 9, lines 23-36). In response to the argument that Torres does not teach the claimed limitation "executing said pre-defined process on any suitable object... solely in response to a graphic selection of a suitable object...", Torres teaches the executing the pre-defined process (represented by selection icon 56) on any suitable object solely in response to user a graphic selection, i.e., clicking on a mouse button while the cursor is overlaying the suitable object (col. 5, lines 49-54), in the similar manner as described on page 10, lines 5-14 of the applicants' specification.

Art Unit: 2173
